

Gym For The Brain celebrates Earth Month (April) and Mental Health Month (May) with Promotion

Gym For The Brain (<https://www.gymforthebrain.com/>), a Florida-based brain/body enhancement center that includes high-altitude EWOT (exercise with oxygen therapy) and six other enhancement tools, recently renewed its Edenark Group ISO 14001 environmental sustainability certification (which includes a wellness component) through 2023 and has decided to celebrate Earth Month (April) and Mental Health Month (May) by providing this promotional offer to bring attention to the need to combine environmental sustainability with wellness.

During April and May 2023, Gym For The Brain will provide a free introductory session ($225 value) to any employee of an environmentally certified sustainable company or a company that is under contract to become environmentally certified sustainable.
